FAIRFIELD JOINT HIGH SCHOOL
FAIRFIELD, PENNSYLVANIA

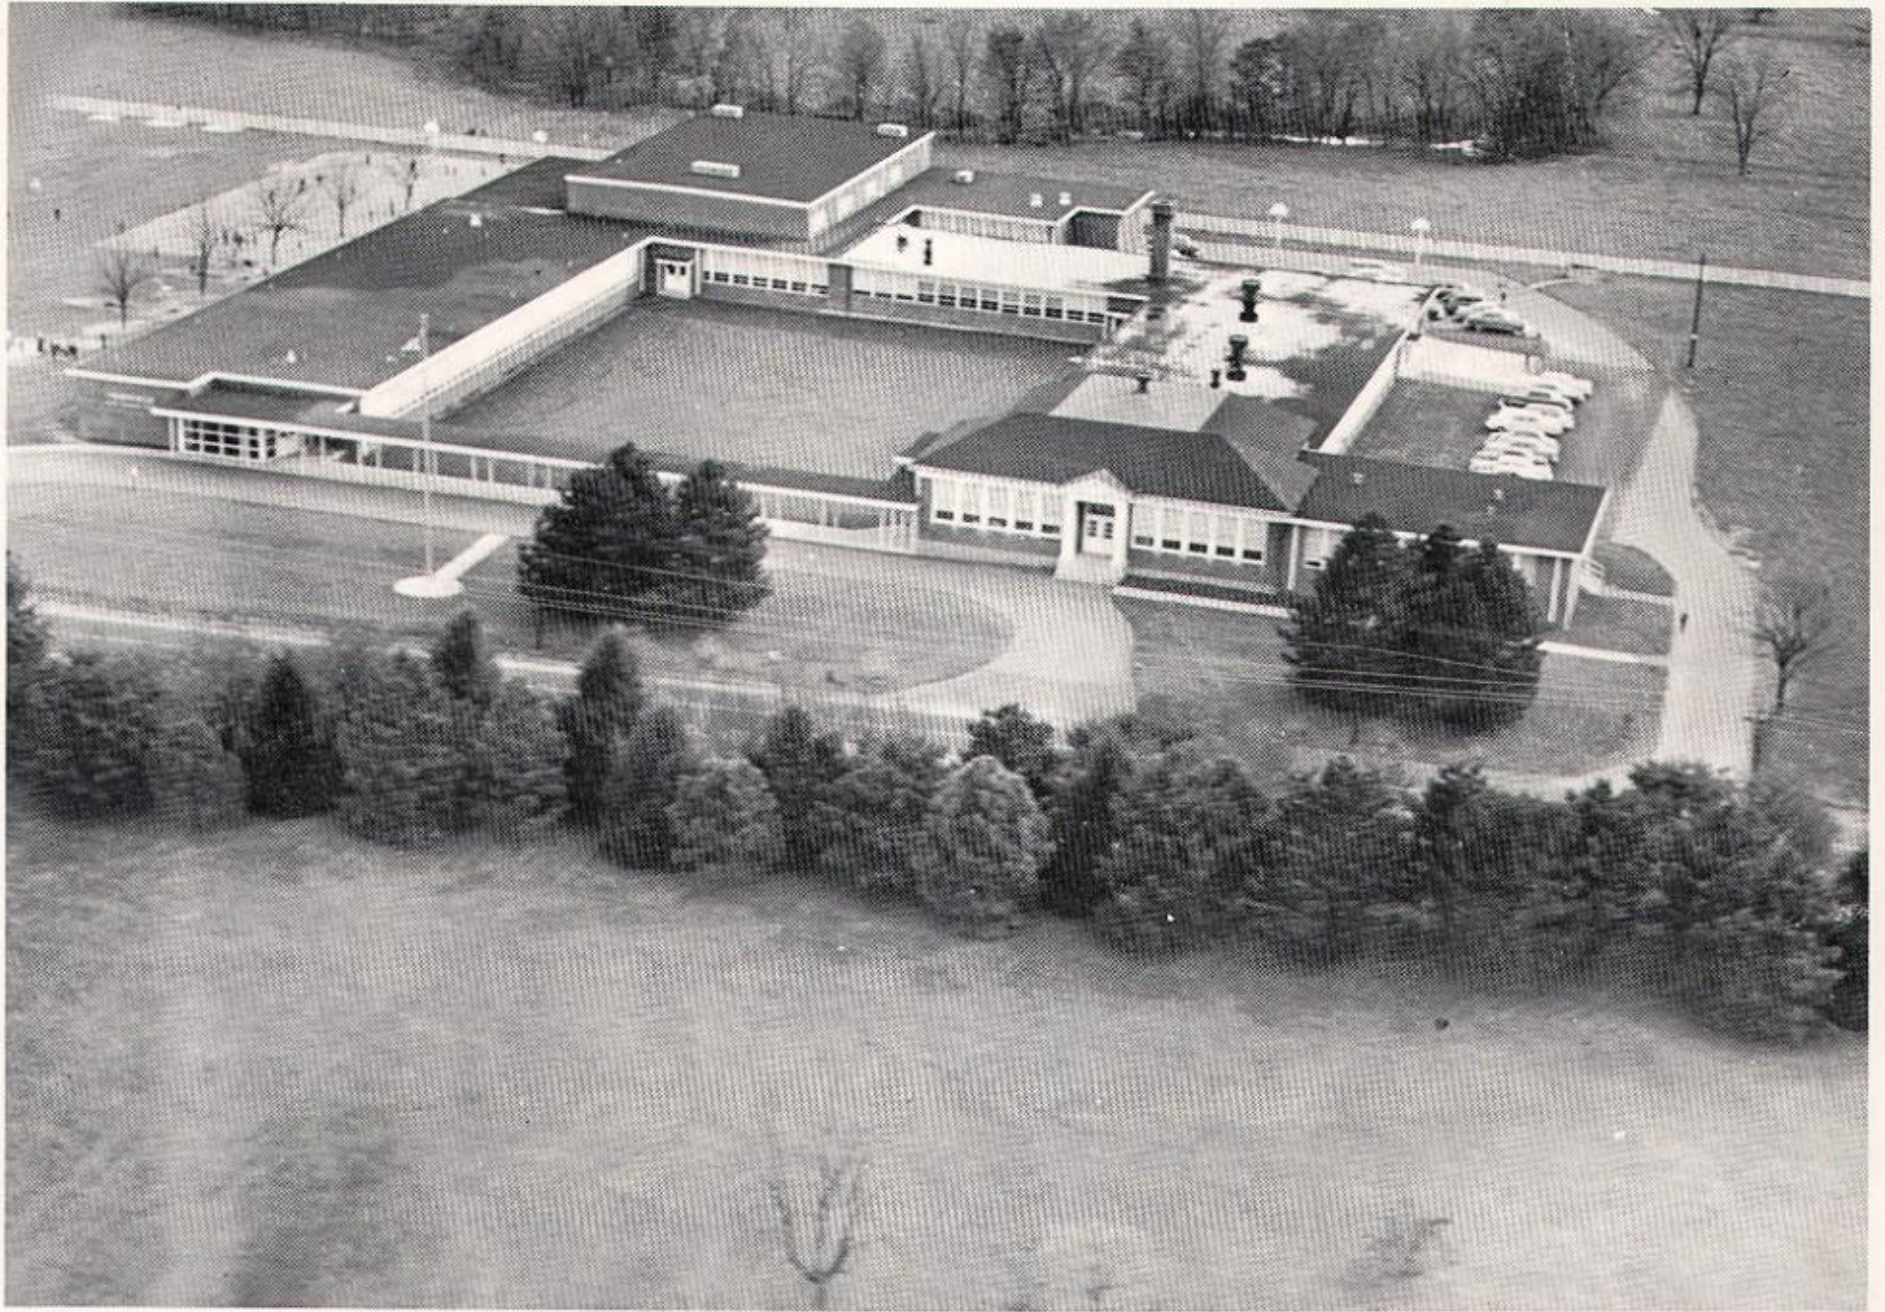

DEDICATION

The chief engineer of our projected venture into space, guiding and instructing us through our twelve years of education was our Supervising Principal, Mr. Inskip.

We did not know toward which goal to steer or upon which star to set our eyes, but he set our course, using the sextant of education.

Now the "Venture" of the Senior Class becomes a reality. This was accomplished only after Mr. Inskip gave many hours of concentrated effort and dedication to our cause.

His guiding hand during these past twelve years will be gratefully remembered by all of us. It is with these thoughts in mind that we, the Class of 1960, sincerely dedicate this yearbook to Mr. George B. Inskip, Supervising Principal, Fairfield Joint School System.

SCHOOL BOARD OF 1960

The Fairfield Joint School System is composed of Hamiltonban and Liberty Townships and Fairfield Borough. There are five members from each school district. Each year a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer are elected. Some of the school board work is done by committees and then approval or disapproval is given by the entire board. In most cases business is transacted directly by the Board. The Board meets regularly on the third Monday of the month at the high school building.

The school board members have a three-fold obligation. They are--(1) an obligation to the citizens of the community who want better schools, better teachers, better transportation with decreased cost. (2) an obligation to the children. This, really, is their greatest obligation for they must see that proper teachers are employed and that pupils are given equal educational opportunities with other children in comparable communities. The welfare of the children must be their prime concern for the school operates for children and their benefit. (3) a certain obligation is also due to the school personnel for they are responsible for the educational growth of the children in their care.

The school director's job is a thankless one for he serves without pay and makes many sacrifices so that he can be present for meetings. The directors are continually asked to keep their schools in line with state mandates. Most school directors assume their responsibilities with pride and a feeling of responsibility. If we are to operate as a democracy, people must be willing to take part and hold these public offices which regulate the welfare of our most precious asset--our boys and girls--our future citizens.

Congratulations to the Class of 1960. You have anticipated graduation from high school for a number of years. Some of you probably were anxious to reach this point in your careers and others disliked to see the time arrive. But eventually time catches up with us and we must face realities. So it is with graduation. Graduation is here and as we look back and retrospect we will remember happy days in which we worked and played. We will remember our dances, athletic events, plays and other school activities. Some of us will remember times when we felt we were mistreated and no one cared about our problems. Others will remember sharing their problems and arriving at some solution.

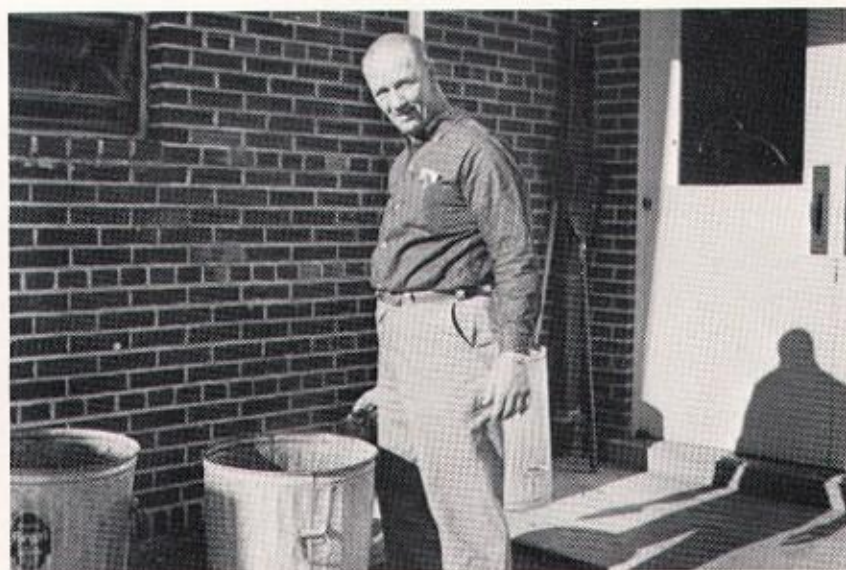

As we look to the future we will become convinced that the world is composed of two factors--problems and solutions. If we are to progress, our problems must be solved as they arise. If we do this, success will be assured. In order to solve problems we will need ideas. The gaining of ideas should be our lifelong pursuit. As you attempt to solve your problems I would like for you to remember the solutions which were discussed in your P.O.D. classes. Here we learned that life is a succession of making choices. One of the methods we learned was the trial and error method. By this we mean that if one plan does not work we try another. It is a usable method in certain choice making but if we follow this plan entirely we probably never will achieve success. Another method is solving problems by systematic thought. In this method we consider the background of problems by analyzing the situation, drawing on the background of our experience and proceeding. If our background has been well-founded, our solution will probably be reasonably correct. The third method of solving problems is by default. This is not really a way of solving problems but the ignoring of the responsibilities which face us.

The type of person who does nothing about his problems will make a poor contribution to his community and the organization of his community. He will never take a stand and probably will be a continual source of discontent among his fellow men. The world needs people who will take their place, express their ideas and who are willing to systematically solve their problems.

It is my sincere wish that your class has gained the knowledge which will help you in the adult world and that you will reflect this knowledge in your thinking and day-to-day activities in the community in which you live. We need good citizens--be one of them!

GRADUATION CLASS OF 1960

You have arrived at another milestone in your lives! The adult world is upon you. Have the past twelve years been a preparatory period for you? How well you have utilized this period will be very important to you! Not all of you have applied yourselves to the tasks; as in life, some were more successful than others because of the very nature of the human being.

You are embarking upon one of the most difficult periods in the history of man. We define this phenomenon as progress. Progress presently is defined in the terms of missiles, outer space, and fantastic speeds. Therefore it is mandatory that "to be prepared" is the watchword for the day.

As you move into this period of adulthood, many new problems will arise that demand and require immediate solutions. What should I do about . . . ? How shall I . . . ? How can I direct . . . ? Outer Space . . . ? Speed . . . ? Missiles . . . ? The solution that you conclude will have a direct bearing on your capacities as a leader in your community, your church, and your home.

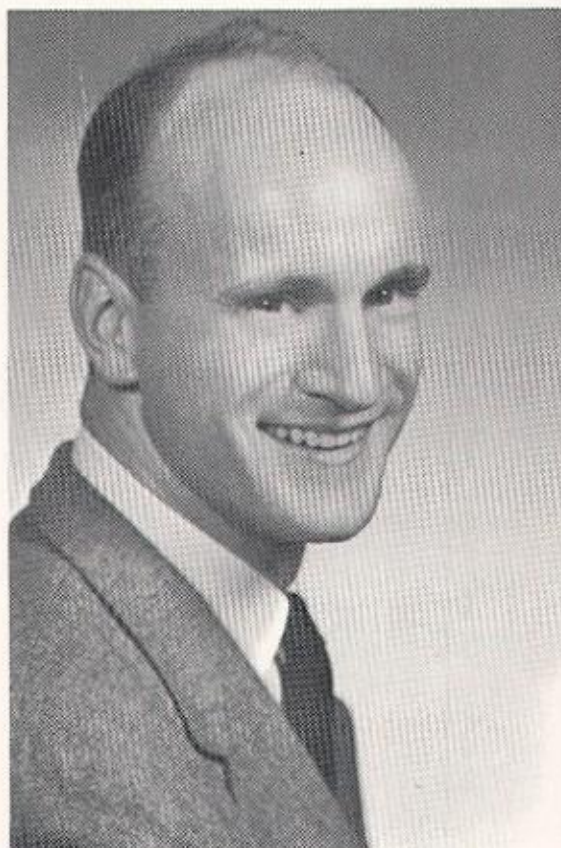

We, the faculty here at Fairfield High School have been striving during the past six years to better equip you, so that you can better evaluate these problems of the "Space Age." In the final analyses, it still was your responsibility and your recognition of the many problems of youth that made our relationships successful.

We wish to all of you much happiness, health, and success in building your life in the "Great American Way."

OUR CLASS ADVISORS

We the class of 1960 wish to express our sincere thanks to our loyal advisors, who have worked with us, getting ready for our launching into the future.

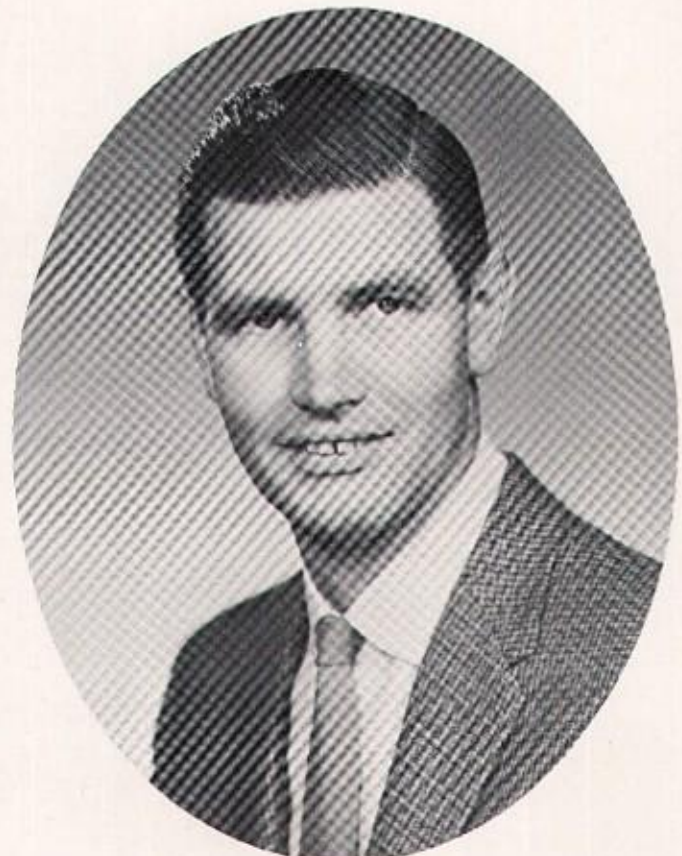

Preparing to help us in our first two years of high school were Mr. John McAndrews and Mrs. Marie Weber, known better to most of the class as Miss Weissenflu. With the transfer of Mrs. Weber to a different project, Mrs. Nancy Hebrank stepped into help further us in our goal, working patiently with the many problems that confronted the crew.

Now the class of 1960 is prepared for the "Venture Into Space" which we have so long worked to achieve. Our pilots during the final countdown are Mrs. Helen Claypool and Mr. McAndrews. We have gone far since entering high school, realizing that without their assistance our goal would have been - - - failure.

The past four years for us have been a combination of work and fun. The future holds maybe higher education, maybe marriage, but always responsibilities.

We will always thank our advisors for helping us to be more responsible students and setting the course for our "Venture Into Space."

OUR VENTURE'S LOG

Launching our class into the difficult year of beginning our great venture, our first year of high school, were our officers: President, John Mort, Vice-President, James Ruth, Secretary, Ann Musselman, Treasurer, Donna Jean Myers, and Student Council Representatives, Jay Martin and Nancy Sites.

It was in the month of October that we decided to have our first dance of the year to help defray the cost of our project. In keeping with the fall season, we called the dance, "Autumn Leaves Frolic."

As the stars looked down upon us that spring, we had another dance which we called the, "Twilight Twirl." This dance was unique in that it was the first dance ever to be held outdoors, away from the launching site.

As we moved into the next stage of our development, tenth grade, we were more stable in our orbits of high school. With this in mind we chose the following leaders to guide us in the right course for our future: President, John Mort, Vice-President, James Ruth, Secretary, Lana Sowers, Treasurer, Marlene Stultz. Elected as our Student Council Representatives, Donna Jean Myers and Richard Reese.

Again as in the year before our class sponsored two activities. The first was the annual Valentine Dance, which we called, "Sweethearts Ball." Also as in the previous year we had another outside dance, which proved to be very successful.

As Juniors we were constantly reminded of the vast unknown that surrounds us. Safely navigating our class through this difficult year were: President, Richard Reese, Vice-President, Dean Snively, Secretary, Ann Musselman and Treasurer, Marlene Stultz. To represent our class in Student Council, we selected Tynia Trembow and Harry Kepner.

Starting our activities for our Junior year, we presented a three act play called, "Plain English." Here for the first time some members of the class were initiated into dramatics.

As the days of autumn came upon us, we were inspired to sponsor an old time Barn Dance. In this informal atmosphere it was interesting to see the couples in their country costumes, swirling about the gym floor among the bales of hay, crisp cornstalks, corn, and pumpkins.

As Valentines Day approached, we were busy with plans for the annual Valentine Dance which we were to sponsor. Romance blossomed and hearts fluttered to love ballads in the gym, decorated with giant valentines and hundreds of multi-colored balloons and streamers.

On May 2, we sponsored the most important event of the year, the Junior Prom, honoring the 1959 graduating class. The title of our prom was called, "Ebb Tide." This event will never be forgotten by those who attended.

Our rendezvous into space almost complete now, we entered into our last and most perilous year of high school. We were very careful to choose officers who were capable of leading us through this, our year of graduation. Those elected were: President, John Mort, Vice-President, Jay Martin, Secretary, Lana Sowers, and Treasurer, Marlene Stultz. Barbara Miller and Richard Reese were our Student Council Representatives. The honor of being elected president of the Student Council went to Tynia Trembow.

Splashes of fun were had by all who participated--in the car wash that we conducted early in September. Members of the class got a chance not only to work together, but also to learn to know one another better during this function.

The car wash was followed by the magazine campaign, in which we were very successful. The class rejoiced at the news that we were the first Senior Class ever to win the campaign in our high school. Since this project enables individual classes to raise money, it was a welcome addition to our treasury.

On October 15 and 16, all eyes were upon us as we presented a comedy in three acts entitled, "The False Alarm." We doubt if any of the persons connected with the play will ever forget the tense opening night of the Senior Play.

Half of the school year went by and the future and unknown were drawing near. Entrance and aptitude tests made many of us realize that there is more to learn than our twelve years in school could ever teach us.

To commemorate the Yuletide season we held a Christmas Dance, which even Santa Claus attended. Couples dressed in their best clothes beheld a stately, glistening, gleaming Christmas tree as they came to the dance held for fun and frolic, but also to remind us all of a greater wisdom, love, and mystery than even our impending "Venture into Space" was to bring.

Finally on April 5,6,7, we took our long awaited class trip to New York City. This was a goal that we worked for during our high school years. We realized then, as we wandered together in the big metropolis, that this would be the last time we would be gathering together as a group for many years, but our high school companions will never be forgotten.

Having almost completed our orbit of high school, we were ready now to commence on a very real "Venture into Space."

The night of baccalaureate was over and commencement drew near. We knew that, as we received our diplomas, one goal had been reached in our life, but that it could never have been reached without the assistance and guidance of parents, teachers and advisors.

'60 FAIRHIAN STAFF

Working diligently, the Fairhian Staff gave many hours of hard work in order to present to the Student Body of Fairfield High School its 1960 Fairhian.

The Staff was made up of two main bodies: the business staff, and the editorial staff. The purpose of the business staff was to sell the books, sell ads for the book, and to do the general financing of the book. The purpose of the editorial staff was to do the actual putting together of the book, such as the pictures and copy.

Members of the staff and our whole class want to thank Mr. Bechtel, our yearbook advisor, for a job well done. He labored with us many times, assisting us in important matters so that we could make our deadlines.

We realize now that we could never have completed our yearbook successfully without the aid and cooperation of students, teachers, parents, and friends.

Music from a shell.

"EBB TIDE"

It was a perfect day, May 2, 1959, for the Junior Prom that was held from 8 to 12 P.M. to honor the graduating class of 1959. Our class had selected as the theme of the prom, an underwater scene, which we appropriately called, "Ebb Tide." The theme song of the prom was the song by the same name. After many hours of hard labor we saw our dream finally come to a reality. The dancers beheld a complete false ceiling representing the waves overhead. Sparkling fish, sea horses, and star fish could be seen many places throughout the room. Tables at which the dancers were seated were octupi, lighted candles, and balloons decorated with painted Mermaids. Music floated to appreciative ears, from a giant sea shell located in a far corner of the gym. The Biglerville High School Dance Band furnished all the music. Refreshments, also made in accordance with our theme, were served from a large underwater rock by a few selected Freshman girls. Students and teachers were ushered into our aquatic wonderland by Neptune, "God of the sea." We believe that none who attended, "Ebb Tide," will soon forget this important dance which is one of the outstanding events of our high school life.

PLAIN ENGLISH

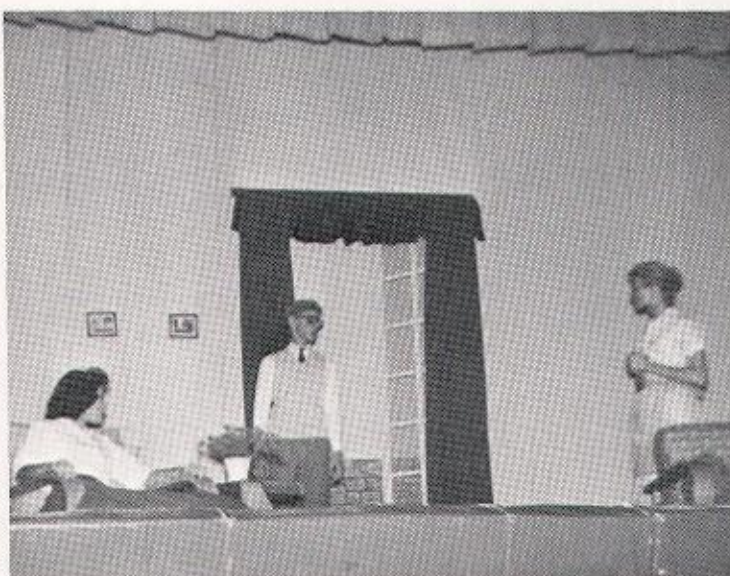

Our Junior play, "Plain English," was presented in October, 1958 and directed by Mr. Bechtel. In this spoof of college life, fraternity initiations were involved, and Bill Anderson found himself with the most impossible stunt of all. The problem: to get Laura Carter to go out with him or surrender to his fraternity "brothers." That sounded easy enough but Laura was no ordinary girl, but rather a studious and serious sophomore who spent all her time with her unattractive girl friend Aurelia. Both, vowed to have nothing to do with men, but to become mathematicians.

When Bill found this out, he decided to call it quits, but Laura's sister Ellie and her sidekick, Ruthie had other ideas. All he had to do was pretend to be her pen-pal, Hubert Montleray III. Bill resisted but finally agreed to the idea. He assumed a weak British accent, fooled Laura, and promptly fell in love with her.

Laura thought Hubert had left town, so Bill was afraid to show up as himself. Ellie and Ruthie helped make matters worse by getting two of Bill's frat brothers to also impersonate Hubert. Finally the real Hubert sends Laura a telegram and she rushes off to meet him. This only made matters worse for Bill, but as the play ends everything comes to a happy end, and Bill and Laura are together. PLAY

"THE FALSE ALARM"

"The False Alarm," a comedy in three acts, was presented October 15 and 16, 1959, by the Senior Class. Our play was under the direction of Mr. Bechtel. The play centers around the love problems of meek, mild Willie Sample who is engaged to Susan Bogue. A bookkeeper employed by Susan's father, Willie has no ambition and suffers from an inferiority complex. This causes Susan to have misgivings about marrying Willie. If she could only change him! When Susan's Aunt Lotta comes to the Bogue home for a visit, Susan is inspired. Aunt Lotta is a character actress who has made a hit playing a female hypnotist. Susan presents Aunt Lotta to Willie as "Madame Carlotta," a hypnotist, and her aunt hypnotizes Willie. Willie goes into a trance and when he awakes he is a different person. Willie assumes the characteristics of an aggressive go-getter. Calling Susan's father an old tight wad, Willie loses his job and sets out to build his fortune. He gets himself into many scrapes and becomes a laughingstock of the town and the climax comes when Willie thinks he is being followed by a hold-up man. Thinking he is calling the police, Willie breaks open a fire box, sends a false alarm, is mistaken for an arsonist and is taken into custody. At this, Susan is filled with despair. Not until the end does Willie come out on top and the pair are reunited. The play cast consisted of: Baldwin Bogue, Jay Martin; Elsie Bogue, Lana Sowers; Susan Bogue, Ann Musselman; Belva, Ellen Sites; Mrs. Bertha Northrup, Tynia Trembow; Dolly Northrup, Donna Jean Myers; Willie Sample, Dean Snively; Harcourt Frayne, Kenny Wolford; Lotta Lester, Barbara Miller; and Barker, Wendell Shank.

BOYS' VARSITY

Fairfield Basketball hopes are rising with the team adding some height to the club. With the 59-60 season under way the squad has one win and four losses. Two of their losses were by two points. Fairfield held Scotland in control in the first half by coming out on top by one point, but in the third quarter the defenses fell apart and Scotland went on to win by a big margin. Being the smallest team in the league in past years, Fairfield, this year, is on a more equal basis with their opponents in height.

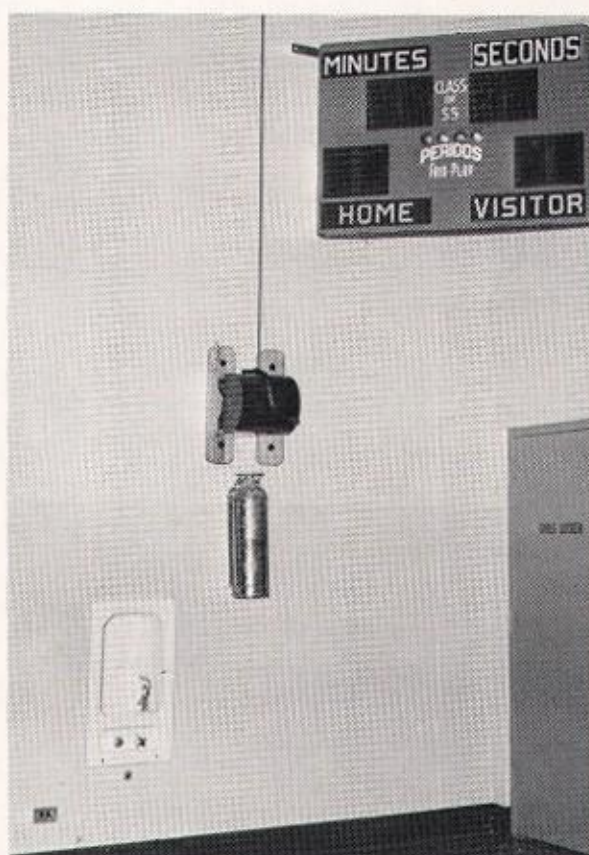

Not having a five-hundred or better season since the 55 campaign, Fairfield looks to the future with high hopes.

Basketball for the 58-59 season had some high and low spirit. The team ended in fifth place in a league made up of six teams. While playing Greencastle at Fairfield, our team played a very good ball game only to lose in the final minutes. Many other closely played games were part of the 58-59 season at Fairfield.

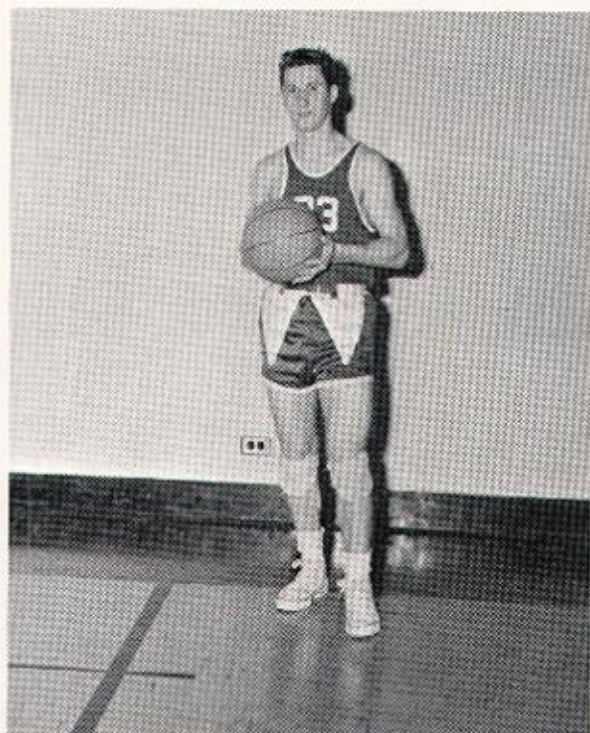

Fairfield has made many games close by handling the ball skillfully and slowing the game down to the way our team plays its best basketball.

JUNIOR VARSITY

The future stars of the Varsity are in the making during the Junior Varsity years. Working day after day and week after week on plays and the fundamentals of the sport of basketball is part of what a Junior Varsity player goes through. During the 57-58 season, the Junior Varsity held second place in the Adams County League and also had a five-hundred standing in the league. Every team in the Adams County League was beaten once by this Junior Varsity team.

The following year the Junior Varsity team dropped to last place in the League, and at the beginning of the 58-59 season, few candidates came out for Junior Varsity. This cast a very great burden on the players that were available. More candidates for this team would help improve the Junior Varsity and eventually boost the Varsity team. The coach would have more players to pick from and competition would be brought between the boys trying to make the starting team.

Looking into the future, Fairfield Junior Varsity has added height to their 59-60 team. The lack of experience is the most important handicap of the club. During the 59-60 season, Fairfield will play in a smaller league. The Adams County League consists of four teams: Bermudian, New Oxford, Littlestown, and Fairfield.

JUNIOR HIGH

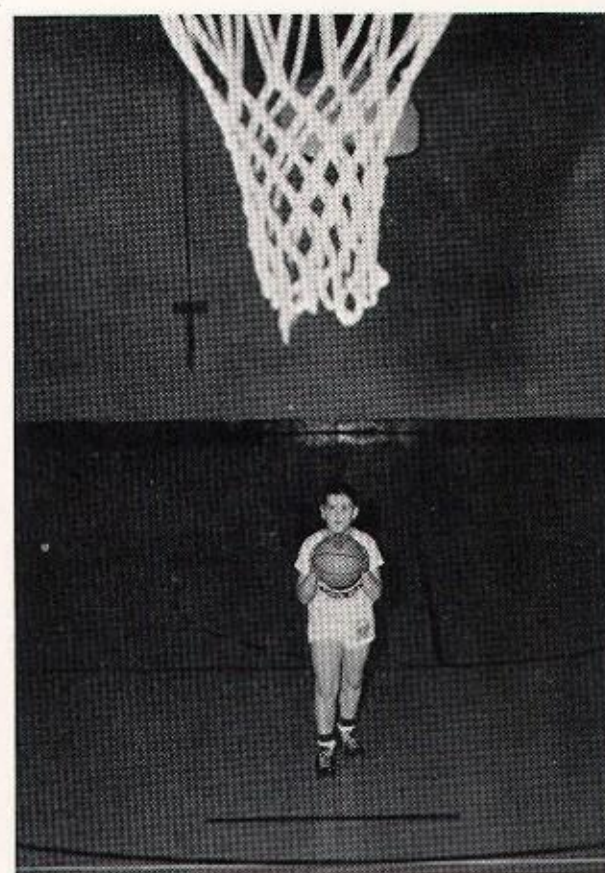

Junior High Basketball is the beginning of a seventh or eighth graders start in school basketball. The first year is the hardest for the new-comers. Running, drilling and more running are the great parts of the Junior High Practice.

Through the years Fairfield has had few winning Junior High teams. Everywhere the squad played, someone on the other team was towering over them.

Today there isn't any league for the Junior High. Games are arranged with schools which have a Junior High team.

Years ago when the Junior High League was in existence, a Fairfield member tied the scoring record of the league; but with the school dropping Junior High Basketball, the league was discontinued.

In the future Junior High Basketball will have once again small but scrapping teams. Sportsmanship, an important phase of sports, is learned while playing in your first year of school basketball.

GIRLS' VARSITY

Girls' Basketball has had a fair record on the Fairfield High schedule. Girls from ninth grade to twelfth take part in basketball at Fairfield.

In the 57-58 season the girls' basketball league was discontinued. With the league program not in operation, the girls played schools which still had girls' basketball teams.

With the 58-59 season, Mrs. Bream became coach of the girls' team. The graduation of two good players hurt the team that season.

Fighting bravely throughout the season of 58-59 the girls show an undefeated season at the end.

With the 59-60 season under way, the girls have lost three games and have not won a game as yet.

BASEBALL

Fairfield High Baseball teams play a very good brand of baseball in the spring. At Fairfield, baseball has had a good many successful seasons.

At the end of the 59 season, Fairfield was in second place in a league composed of four teams. With second place, Fairfield had an over all record of seven wins and three losses. Every game lost that year was by one run.

After finishing last in the 57 season, Fairfield tied for fourth place the following season. A play-off was played to see who would be in fourth and fifth places in the league. Fairfield played a good game only to lose by one run. The 56 season was a rebuilding year for Fairfield High Baseball squad.

Being the most popular sport at Fairfield High, many hopefuls came out for baseball almost every year.

Scouting the future of Fairfield baseball, it shows another fine team ready to take to the diamond in the 60 season. With the loss of four regulars the squad has good prospects to take the graduates places.

CLASSES

CLASSES

The courses of study that have been developed at Fairfield Joint High School are designed for a well rounded program of studies for each student whatever his desires may be. Basically this program is divided into four major areas; the Academic, Commercial, General, and Vocational.

The minimum requirements for graduation at Fairfield Joint School applicable to all students are: English--three units, Social studies--three units, Science--one unit, Mathematics--one unit, Physical Education--one unit, Driver Education, and six units of elected subjects in the course of study the student may choose. A unit of study is determined by the number of periods a class meets. Any class that meets one period a day, five days a week is considered as one unit except for science, which meets two additional periods for laboratory work.

The academic course of study is the traditional college preparatory program. This course of study stresses achievement in all subject matter areas with the plan for continuing education. Particular emphasis is placed upon mathematics and science. Two electives are required in each of these fields, which are selected from algebra, plane geometry, trigonometry, biology, physics, and chemistry. We encourage all students in this area to select all of the science courses. Two units of foreign language are also required in this course of study. Basic Latin I and II, also French I and II are the languages offered the students at Fairfield.

The commercial course of study is designed for those people interested in the business field. Emphasis is placed upon the secretarial field, with classes offered in shorthand, typing, business mathematics, and office practices. As an introduction to the business program, a class in general business training is offered to most students in the ninth year of school. Students may also acquire an introduction to bookkeeping, which is an elective in the commercial field.

The vocational course of study is designed for girls in the field of home economics, and for the boys in the field of agriculture. Vocational classes meet two periods a day, five days a week. Boys in the field of agriculture are also required two additional periods of laboratory shop. This course is designed primarily for those students who expect to engage in vocational science and two classes in vocational mathematics, which emphasises the practical application of problems in these fields. The vocational course of study is introduced in the ninth year.

The general course is generally a combination of the academic, commercial, and vocational courses. Generally speaking the general course gives students experiences in a variety of fields, and in many instances the students continue their education in either colleges, or nursing schools. In most cases the failure to select a language course, a deficiency in the mathematics or science fields places a student in the general course.

A course in industrial arts is also offered in this area to boys desiring a well rounded general shop program.

It is well to note that at Fairfield Joint High School we are well above the minimum as prescribed by the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction. It may be said that the courses of study offered at The Fairfield Joint Schools are those courses that meet the definite needs of the students at present and aid them in a richer, fuller life.
